From pioneer to market leader

PMA has been designing, manufacturing and distributing cable protection products of the highest quality since 1975. Very quickly PMA gained an excellent reputation worldwide and following the tradition of Swiss quality established itself as market leader.

The portfolio of components which now includes more than 7,500 products has proven itself worldwide in shipbuilding applications, in rail industry technology and mechanical engineering. PMA has also become the preferred supplier for many robotic, building installation and several other application areas where power or data cables must be reliably protected.

A Swiss company with a global presence

PMA headquarters is located in Uster (Switzerland), close to Zurich. The majority of what we produce for the world market is made at this location. Also our research and development department is located here. PMA has fully owned subsidiaries in all of the major European industrial countries Germany, the UK, France, Spain, Austria, and Italy.

Thanks to our large network of professional partners in all of the major industrialised countries around the globe, we are able to guarantee best quality not just for our products but also in technical support, service and delivery time. PMA products are already sold in more than 45 countries and we continuously expand our partner base. Worldwide around 160 people are working for PMA AG. Since May 2012 PMA is part of the ABB group; worldwide leader in power and automation technology.
